Vidushi Ruchira Panda

Short Bio:

Kotali Gharana rose from the riverine fields of undivided Bengal. This is music that is intellectually rich yet as emotive and alive as the soil that it came from. A musical tradition that is also steeped in fine arts and literature—the unmistakably Bengali notes of aesthetics, the tunes of experimentation and the beats of creativity. The compositions from the house of Kotali are exclusive. Beyond the khayals, thumris, tappas and tap-khayals, its treasure chest includes some near-extinct classical-based sub-genres of India, like Bundelkhandi Pasar ke Geet, Patjhar, Jaad ke Geet and phaag etc. etc.

Vidushi Ruchira Panda, is the global face of Kotali Gharana today. Her talim under Pandit Manas Chakraborty lasted two and a half decades, till his passing. Twenty four long years of mentoring by her guru, Pandit Manas Chakraborty, the son of legendary vocalist Sangeetacharya Tarapada Chakraborty, shaped her gayki (style), Raagdari (command over the Raga) and finesse.

A Kolkata based vocalist, composer, she also happens to have a signature vocal tone that is a mix of raw power and flexibility. She is a guru herself and her disciples are already performing in conferences. So the tradition is in good hands. As a composer and Guru, Ruchira keeps creating new lyrics and tunes, sometimes just before or even during a concert. That, naturally, adds to the freshness and magic of the core Indian Classical tradition centered around live music settings. Like in Jazz music, exploring intellectually uncharted routes through a Raga's structure in live performances is what sets her apart - so that all performances seem unique.

In a career spanning twenty-five long years, Ruchira has been performing in the major Classical Conferences in India, USA, Canada, UK, South Asia and Central Asia. She represented India in the UNESCO International Music Festival “Sharq Taronalari” in Samarkand.

Ruchira holds a Master's in Economics. She is an Established Empaneled Artist of Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR), SPICMACAY, Fellow of The Ministry of Culture, Govt. of India and an “A” grade artist of All India Radio.

Vidushi Ruchira Panda is also an ardent social worker. She founded Paramparik in 2001. Paramparik has sponsored thousands of underprivileged students of rural Bengal to become teachers, doctors and engineers. The Paramparik Classical Music Conference is well-known in the connoisseur circles of India.

Her live performances:

Ruchira's cerebral approach to classical and light classical music weaves a new tapestry at each performance. Ruchira is a featured artist of major music conferences and venues.
